1. Manchester United (South-east Asia) Supporters' Club

Hangout: Devil's Bar, Orchard Parade Hotel. Members: 6,500. Membership fee: From $68 per annum. Website: www.manutdsea.com Quirks: For the ultimate indoor viewing experience, how about three giant screens, 12 television monitors and stadium-effect surround sound amid thunderous cheers from Man United fans? Drinks are 3-for-1 during Happy Hours until 9pm.

2. Singapore Liverpool Fan Club

Hangout: Liverpool Club House, Maxwell Road, behind former Traffic Police HQ. Members: 2,700. Membership fee: $20 per annum (one-time $30 registration fee). Below 12 years old — free. Website: www.liverpoolfanclub.org.sg Quirks: Shirts soaked in perspiration, beer flowing, throats screaming, sitting knees up, big screen, big speakers — this is Premiership passion at its Singapore best, open air, on a basketball court.

3. Newcastle Supporters' Club Singapore

Hangout: Shamus O'Donnell's Irish Pub, Tras Street Members: 1,500 Membership: Free. Website: www.nufcsingapore.com Quirks: How about some VIP treatment from the pub? It will open specially for Newcastle fans if there is a live telecast on Sundays. For $20, you also get three bottles of Newcastle Brown Ale, official sponsor of the football team.

4. Leeds United Supporters Club Singapore

Hangout: Lock, Stock and Barrel Pub, Seah Street Members: 160 Membership: $60 per annum for adults, $20 for overseas fans and fans below 18 years old. Website: www.luscs.org Quirks: Rowdy but friendly atmosphere permeates, as Leeds fans will teach their cheers and songs so that everyone will sing along during games.

5. Singapore Spurs Supporters Club

Hangout: Sportzballz, Seah Street Members: 175 Membership: For adults — $30 one-time registration fee, $20 per annum. For juniors under 12 — $5 one-time registration fee, $10 per annum. Website: www.spurs-sg.org Quirks: Inside the memorabilia-filled walls, there is an extra incentive when Spurs play Leeds: fans from both teams will compete for the loudest cheers along Seah Street.

6. Singapore Everton Supporters Club

Hangout: Beach Bar, Robertson Quay Hotel Members: 60 Membership: $15 last season, may be revised this season. Website: www.evertonfc.org.sg Quirks: Laid-back viewing at its finest — watch football on a giant projection screen, with beach chairs to rest your legs on, in a pub that lies right beside the Singapore River.

7. Singapore Southampton FC Supporters Club

Hangout: Shidong Bar, Club Street Members: 70 Membership: $18 for 18 years old and above, $5 for those below 18 years old. Website: www.singasaints.com Quirks: If you do not mind the distraction, live music performances inside the bar provide a welcome relief from the frenetic pace of live telecasts in the television outdoors.

8. Blackburn Rovers Singapore Supporters' Community

Hangout: Various pubs Members: 95 Membership: Free Website: brfcsingapore.tripod.com Quirks: Bar-hopping with a twist as the Blackburn fans prefer not to stay in one location.
